

OUR HISTORY IN PHOTOS

A history of photo taking and how we are assuring they are there for future generations.

Estimates say that only a few million photos were taken before commercial cameras were introduced. But since 1930, the amount of photos taken per year has grown exponentially every decade.

With almost everyone on the planet carrying a smartphone with built-in cameras, this number will continue to grow.

2 min

Every two minutes we take more pictures than the whole of humanity in the 1800's
